i-CAT 3D Digital X-Ray

Our office has incorporated new exciting technology to better serve our patients! In a continual effort to be at the cutting edge, we now have an iCAT machine, which takes 3D x-rays.

3D imaging will provide us with greater amount of information than 2D x-rays, enabling Dr. Moin to more precisely diagnose and plan your orthodontic treatment. This information is especially helpful in cases with eruption problems, impacted teeth, periodontal problems and can also serve as a screening tool for airway issues.

The iCAT allows Dr. Moin to customize the size of the radiograph for a patient's particular needs, so she can minimize radiographic exposure to only what is necessary. We are very excited to offer his new technology as a means to providing the best quality care for our patients!
